

SCENES SET FOR THE SULZER TRIAL

IMPEACHMENT PROCEEDINGS OF NEW YORK'S GOVERNOR TAKE ACTUAL FORM TODAY.

JUDGE AND JURY READY

Albany Crowded With Interested Followers of Both Factions and the Taking of Evidence Begins.

Albany, Sept. 18.—The case of William Sulzer, first governor of New York to be impeached, was called for trial today at the bar of the court of impeachment—the senate and the court of appeals—for alleged "high crimes and misdemeanors."

Whether the governor will appear in person to plead guilty to not guilty to the charges against him or be represented solely by counsel as did President Johnson before the United States senate will not be known until the preliminary arguments of the attorneys have been disposed of and the court has passed on the several objections which the governor's counsel have raised, attacking the validity of the impeachment.

Crowds Throng Capitol. Although noon was the appointed hour for the convening of the court, several thousand persons thronged the capitol building and grounds here to catch all hours to gain admittance to the senate chamber, the scene of the trial. While there was no indication that any testimony would be taken today, the crowds were eager to witness the solemn opening ceremonies of the court.

Seats at Premium. Owing to the small seating capacity of the senate galleries most of the would-be spectators were doomed to disappointment. Not more than three hundred seats were available, of which fifty were reserved for news paper men.

Sergeant-at-Arms Reinforced. Foreboding possibility of any attempt to rush the chamber the senate sergeant-at-arms and his staff were reinforced by a heavy platoon of city police. Positive orders were issued that no spectators should be permitted on the floor of the chamber.

Rooming Houses Read Harvest. Rooming house owners reaped a small harvest from the crowd that poured into the city last night and today. Long before the night train came in from New York, hundreds of politicians and sight-seers, even available room had been taken at the downtown hotels and those without reservations were forced to go to private houses to find accommodation.

Parker State Counsel. Arrived against the governor's counsel for the assembly, the former chief justice of the court of appeals, John B. Stanchfield, Edgar T. Bruckett, Eugene Lamb, Richard J. Teadore, J. H. K. Todd.

Attorneys for the defense included D. Cady Herriek, Irving C. Vann, for the judge of the court of appeals, Austin H. H. Clark, H. H. Marshall and Roger Clark.

Wagner Presides. Acting Lieutenant Governor Robert F. Wagner called the senate to order. Members of the court of impeachment, all but one of the forty-one senators, John C. Gerald of New York, who is ill, answered to their names as the roll was called.

Committee Ready. A committee of the two notified the court of appeals that the senate was "ready to join with them in completing the court for the trial of the impeachment of Governor Sulzer."

Silent Wait. There was a two minute silent wait. Then the doors opened and the judges, nine in number, clad in their sombre robes, filed solemnly into the chamber. Senators and spectators rose and remained standing while the acting lieutenant governor welcomed the court.

Court Convened. Chief Judge Cullen, the presiding officer, was brought to the desk and present with grave which he brought down solemnly declaring the court convened.

Permit Judges to Sit. After the roll call Judge Cullen declared the court duly constituted. He announced that the evidence had been raised as to the right of Judge Herriek, Chase and Miller, designated members of the court of appeals, to sit as members of the high court. He said in his opinion designated judges should be permitted to sit. Counsel for both sides assented.

Call Sulzer's Name. After the seating in of the members of the court, the clerk called the name of William Sulzer. He did not answer. Judge Herriek arose and announced that in accordance with a notice filed when the court convened Gov. Sulzer desired to appear through counsel. This request was granted by the presiding judge, who then appointed a committee of three to draw up rules and methods of procedure for the court.

The court, on motion of Senator Wagner, adjourned until ten o'clock tomorrow.

AN UNUSUAL AWARD TO SUPERIOR WOMAN

Although Divorced She Will Receive $1,200 For Husband's Death is Commission's Order.

Madison, Wis., Sept. 18.—The industrial commission today awarded to Minnie Lawrence $25 a week for four years as compensation for the death of W. G. Lawrence of Superior. The order directed the Lake Superior Terminal & Transfer Railway company for whom Lawrence was working at the time of his accidental death last March. The case was the most peculiar that has come before the commission in ten days previous to his death Minnie Lawrence was granted a divorce from her husband, the court awarding her the custody of the five children and directing him to pay as alimony $25 a month. Mrs. Lawrence asked for compensation on her own account and as a guardian for her children. Had she been living with Lawrence at the time of his death the award would have been $3,000 instead of the $1,200 granted.

"It may be freely conceded that the father was legally obligated for the support of his children and that the court who entered the decree of divorce might modify it at any time and increase the amount of alimony to be paid to the mother for her own and her children's support, or it might change the custody of the children," says the decision. "We see no reason not to what might happen, but to the facts as they existed upon the fifth day of March 1912. The evidence seems to be conclusive on that date that Minnie Lawrence and her children were dependent upon W. G. Lawrence for their care and support to the extent of $25 a month."

The commission also directed an award to the parents of James Martin, who was killed by a bullet fired by a man named J. J. Connors of Buffalo, more popularly known politically as "Big" Connors. Martin's back was broken by a bullet which he gave $275 annually for the support of his parents in Pittsburgh, Pa., and the commission directed an award of four times this amount.

Washington, Sept. 18.—The administration currency bill was passed by the house today by a vote of 289 to 84, practically unamended in its essential provisions.

Support of Republicans. The final vote brought a number of republicans to the support of the administration measure. Twenty-four republicans voted for the bill and three democrats voted against it. A final vote on an amendment reaffirming the present financial policy of a gold money standard caused some defections from the democratic side.

A burst of applause greeted the passage of the bill. The three democrats who voted against it were Representatives Callaway of Texas, Bider of Louisiana and Witherspoon of Mississippi. The republicans voting for it were: Baltz, Browne, Cary, Cooper, Crampin, Dillon, Esch, Farr, Fear, Fear, Hansen, Helgesen, Kent, Lenroot, Porter, Samuel Smith and J. A. C. Insures Gold Standard. Some house democrats were inclined to look with disfavor on an amendment incorporated in the measure last night at the suggestion of the banking committee. Chairman Glass, however, declared that the amendment only made clear the meaning of the bill as originally framed.

M'GOVERN CRITICISES STATE LEGISLATURE

GOVERNOR DECLARES MEMBERS PLAYED TOO MUCH SMALL POLITICS.

NET RESULT IS GOOD

Critiques Manner That Finance Committee Handled Money Bill and Failure of Market Legislation.

Appleton, Sept. 18.—In an address at the Fox River Valley fair this afternoon Governor McGovern spoke on the work of the legislature. He criticised some of the members for the small politics they played, praised the work done by some of the leaders in enacting amendments to money laws, for the new laws they passed, severely criticised the finance committee for the way the bills carrying expenditures were handled and said it was a detriment that the market bill was not passed. He said in part:

"The long session of the legislature was accompanied by great personal trickery and small politics, but the net result was not bad. On the contrary it was surprising but in view of the feeling and the methods employed by some members that so much good was accomplished. That was due to the work of some legislators who did not mix politics with business, set their names in the papers, but who worked hard."

"The criticism I have to make on the last legislature is the manner in which the money bills were handled. That was the work of the finance committee and not the work of the legislature, or the legislature and the governor acting together. That this was so, is the fault of the finance committee although it had laid before the legislature a complete report at the beginning of the session. The principal money bills were not reported out until the very last of the legislature when the pressure of work made a fair consideration of the bills impossible. They were reported out in a form which made it difficult to change them. They were omnibus bills carrying from fifty to one hundred items in a bill. In the short time left it was impossible to determine the wisdom of the application. When the bills came to me I was familiar with parts of them and disapproved of some of the items. The only item that I had to sign or veto but the time was so late that it was unlikely my veto would be overruled or another bill passed. I was compelled to take the bills as they came. I did so but sent a message to the legislature recommending an amendment so that the governor can veto specific items. There must be one of two things either that change must be made giving the governor that power or the item must be reported out as separate bills."

The great rose family has been increased by 450 members in the space of three years. Unfortunately, among the new varieties we do not find the blue rose, which so many specialists have vainly tried to produce for a number of years. We may already admire a rose that is almost black. LINK AND PIN

Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul, both the C. M. & St. P. and N. W. railroads operating through this city are experiencing a great amount of trouble with roxious weeds on the right-of-way, and the favorable hot weather during the past few months has caused the weeds to grow in immense proportions.

Both roads have been using many methods to try and kill the pests but all efforts to cut them down is in vain, for they seem to go up again with renewed strength. The N. W. western road had a weed burner in operation on some of the divisions, but as yet has not made an appearance on the lines running through the Janesville terminal. The burner has proven successful in every way where it has been used, but is very costly. Several derailments of box cars on divisions near here have been directly due to the overgrowth of weeds and at times bunches are sufficiently large enough to cause cars to leave the track.

Engineers Local, Kottle, Lornow, and Fireman Haney are on the extra board on the Mineral Point division. Engineers Barron and Warsaw are laying off on the Racine and Southern western division.

Engineer Hobbs is laying off on the Mineral Point division. Engineer Shicker is relieving him.

Engineers Seitz, McAniffe and James are on the extra board on the Mineral Point division.

The C. M. & St. P. railroad is building a new stock yard at Delano and when finished it will be larger than the old yard. The old site will be made into a lawn extension of the present station park.

Engineer Falter and Fireman Volin went out on train No. 94 at seven o'clock with locomotive No. 404.

Thomas P. Fox, engineer, has returned to work after an illness of over three weeks.

Fireman Higgins on the M. P. division is laying off.

Hillemeyer and Dallman went out.

Since it is a mutual benefit to all workmen that the workshop be kept clean as possible little trouble is expected from the men in carrying out the orders.

PAY THE PIPER.

Some one must always pay the piper. For years Wisconsin has been held up to the world as a land of the most progressive states in the great union. For years the demagogues on chautauqua platforms, during political campaigns have pointed to Wisconsin as an example of what the new idea in taxation and state management might accomplish. For years Wisconsin has shone in its own glory. It has been lead to heights of imagination by the silver tongues of the orators who proclaimed its greatness, and law after law has been added to the already complex statutes, commission after commission created to govern the people, to assess the taxes, to decide the railroad rates, the street car rates and deal with public utilities. Now someone must pay the piper and we are informed that the state treasury is empty, that Governor McGovern may have to call an extra session of the legislature to make arrangements for securing money to tide over the deficiency until the taxes are collected. Reform costs money and the taxpayers of the state are certain they are the ones who "pay the piper" in the end.

MILWAUKEE INDIGNANT.
 Milwaukee is most indignant over the state fair situation. They feel that if it were not for Milwaukee and its patronage, the fair would have been a flat financial failure. Truth be known the fair was a most excellent one from an exhibit point of view and, financially, managed to creep through a very small knot hole if the latest figures are true. However, Milwaukee made great claims last winter to keep the fair at West Allis, an honest journey from the city, and succeeded in getting the legislative members that Milwaukee was a hard city to reach from all parts of the state and the figures that Milwaukee now proudly asserts are correct, prove this statement. Oshkosh still talks of the Fox River valley as the ideal location. Madison insists that it has the only real site, and Janesville is still in the race to place the fair in the center of the agricultural belt accessible to all points in the state by a few hours' ride. There is nothing to be fun at the next legislature, but it is safe to say the Milwaukee "lobby" will be strong enough to prevent the removal of the fair although the Milwaukee papers openly state they do not care if it remains there; that is, now, but later
 they will change their tune.

REVENGE IS SWEET.
 Revenge is sweet. Within the next few days it is to be expected the first move of an element which seeks to hamper the work of the mayor and council and the police department in cleaning up the city, will be made.
 In some cases it is actuated by personal grievances against certain individuals who did not agree with them in their late unpleasantness, and in others simply pure cussedness. However, matters will adjust themselves later. At present their energies are directed against certain saloon dealers who offended them in some manner and they seek to revenge themselves. If proper charges are filed against these men by those interested in subjecting them to the spirit of revenge the council will doubtless take prompt action, but it promises to be the start of a merry war between an element which has hitherto stood together like a unit in city matters and the real end can not be seen.

Perhaps it may end in a vote on the question of dry and wet, license or no license, and it is safe to say that if the present bickering keeps up the average citizen will be so disgusted that they will vote dry with a big D.
 Rockford has demonstrated the success of the dry question and Janesville might learn its lesson from that city.

THE NEW DOME.

The Editor and Publisher prints the following interesting item relative to the new Wisconsin state capital dome being the fourth highest in the world with a height from the ground of 269
 ft. 8 in. without the bronze statue of a woman which will increase it to 287
 ft. more than the width of seven city lots. The three domes which are higher are those of St. Peter's cathedral at Rome, 330 ft.; the Duomo at Florence, Italy, 310 ft.; and the national capitol at Washington, 307 1/2 ft.
 The dome on the Wisconsin capitol is more than 104 ft. in diameter, nearly as wide as three city lots, at the base. It is constructed of concrete, reinforced with 2,300 tons of steel, with an exterior wall made of 8,000 tons of white granite. In order to place the main steel girders, each of which weighed 23 tons, it was necessary to erect a square steel tower through the center, with corners which could be moved from corner to corner. The dome alone will cost $2,500,000, considerably more than one-third the price for the whole building, which is limited to $6,000, 000. A page view of the building is a feature of the October Popular Mechanics magazine.

STILL BUSY.

Politicians are still most busy laying their wires for next year's state campaign. Democrats, republicans, bull moosers, all want a finger in the political pie and already indications of the battle to be waged can be found in every community. Assemblymen all have been stung by the state senatorial bee, state senators think of the congressional positions, congressmen and governors of the United States senatorship, and meanwhile the poor "peep" are herded like so much cattle to be counted for this or that candidate as the need arises.
 Talk about the days of the old bosses and the state convention deals. There is more "bathroom" politics going on in Wisconsin today than ever before in which the people have no part or parcel and only expected to pay their taxes and vote. This is Reform with a capital R.

Harry Thaw is in the hands of the United States authorities and is safe

 may manage to slip away after all which would be a calamity.

Inconsistent.

Well Worth Noting.

It Can't Be Done.
 Senator La Follette opposed President Taft's Canadian reciprocity rious to American farmers. Now he which puts on the free list nearly everything the farmer produces, with nothing in return. It is difficult to reconcile the senator's two attitudes. —

STUPID MOMENT

The Diary of a Bonehead.
 I invited three of my friends in to spend the evening and to meet my cousin Elihu from Durip's Corners.
 I never liked Elihu very well and I considered this a good chance to get even. Early in the evening somebody suggested a little game of dollar-bill.

Elihu wasn't anxious but he was willing and the four of us squared away around the dining room table.
 I almost felt sorry for Elihu for what we city gentlemen were going to do to him.

Elihu lost steadily for a half hour, but didn't complain. About midnight he boosted the pot five times before the draw. There was a flush, a straight and a full house against him and I felt sorrier than ever for Elihu. Elihu coughed apologetically and showed four nines raking in all that he had lost and $17 besides.

At 11 o'clock Elihu had held those four nines three times, had beaten
 two full houses with four deuces,
 had bluffed us all out twice with a pair of fours and had held four aces
 seven times.

He could fill any straight in the middle or any flush at both ends and he never dealt anybody better than a pair of sevens, expecting once when he dealt me a full house and dealt himself four kings.

 Elihu won all of the chips, all of our wearing apparel and my can-bash pipe.
 Moral: Draw poker was invented country village.

MORRIS MILLER

The many remarkable swimming records that have been made in the past several years are all said to be the result of new strokes that have been devised of late. The crawl and its several variations have done a great deal to shorten time and shatter speed records. Many of the present record holders learned the new crawl while comparatively youngsters and by developing and perfecting them have been able to easily distance the records made by the old overhand and breast strokes. J. B. Frazar, the famous English champion who held all records from 1894 till 1907, and C. M. Daniels of this country, who held all records till his retirement in 1904, stand out as the big champs of our swimming history. Yet their records seem slow compared to those of the present day. The fact that both these men used the trudgen stroke almost altogether makes their records seem the most remarkable, however, as the trudgen has been abandoned today for speed swimming. Daniels later took to the crawl and with it was able to create a number of newer records.

Mr. Walter McCreddie manager of the Portland team of the Pacific Coast league, comes forth to say that his is the best minor league team that ever gambled on a baseball lot. McCreddie is not merely bragging. He is firmly convinced that the team he has managed this season is far and away the best balanced, most efficient organization of ball tossers that ever played the game—outside the major leagues. "In every department of the game," said the proud manager recently, "they have all others faded. Consider their remarkable work against Oakland last week. In the six games played they totaled 77 hits and the team batting average was .299. Practically every man hitting .300. Pretty poor work!" And, indeed, Mr. McCreddie is right. That Portland bunch are elegant players for the minors.

The Leland Stanford football squad this fall looks a great deal like a ball park on the day of a terrible header. There are 210 ambitious young men in the bunch, all eager to make the varsity, which is perhaps as great a crowd as ever swarmed forth to the field with the platoon on one lot. Rugby football is the thing—and has been for some while at Stanford and there are, of course, 15 men on the line-up instead of the usual 11. This accounts in a way for the unusual number of candidates for the turn-out at Stanford has always been large. Coach Floyd Brown has been putting them to work at setting up exercises and light kicking practice and he expects to develop some able footballers from the material on hand. Stanford has suffered a loss this year from the regular line-up of last fall there being only five of the last year's varsity team left this season. Practically the whole backfield will be a new one and there are only three members of the scrum at school this season. Coach Brown has a large job on his hands.

Some 24 grandfathers competed in a golf tournament in Chicago for the grand old championship of the Homewood Country club and it was considered one of the most unique affairs of the sort ever planned. The tournament had been postponed from time to time at the urgent urging of quite a few prospective grandfathers who were eager to enter. Some of the most recent become grandfathers had the bulge on others in the matter of youth of course and were only able to qualify through the kindness of the stork in visiting their married children at the last moment. The winning grandfather was awarded a bronze statue of a child teeing a ball. The statue was designed by a daughter of one of the contestants.

ROCKFORD GOLFERS EXPECTED TUESDAY

Sinnissippi Golf Club Extends Invitations to Rockford Country Club Members.

Charles Gage secretary of the Sinnissippi Golf club has extended a formal invitation to the Rockford Country club for a tournament to be held at the local course on Tuesday next. The Rockford club is invited to come to Janesville and spend the day and bring with them a team of twenty-five players. These will be paired with members of the Janesville club to see if the score will work in Rockford when that club won't come. It is expected that the golfers will be accompanied by many ladies and special bridge games, with a club luncheon and dinner and dance in the evening being arranged for in their honor.

TILLIE AND BUTTERS IN SUNDAY'S BATTLE

Janesville Cardinals Will Battle With Footville White Sox at Driving Park Sunday Afternoon.

Sunday's game between the Janesville Cardinals and the Footville White Sox promises to be a battle royal as two of the best twirlers in southern Wisconsin will meet for supremacy.

The trimming that the Cards gave the Footville men some time ago, when Munson of Evansville opposed Candall for the Cards, still leaves a sore spot in their record and in hopes of evening matters up, Tillie, who has a strikeout list a yard long and twenty-two victories under his belt, will be the hope of the Footville team. In case he pitches for Delvidere, Cavanaugh, a state league pitcher from the Rockford nine will be pitted against the Cards. Either one is capable of pitching an excellent game of ball. The holding ability of the White Sox is well known to the Janesville fans as every man on the nine is a fighter until the last man is out.

"Cup" Butters will mount the slab for the Janesville nine and Butters is no sand lot hurler, having pitched many winning games this season. Hail is scheduled to be his battery mate and this combination looks good. The visitors' measure, a hard-coming infielder is being looked for to strengthen up the infield and with Porter on the nital sock, Holl covering short, and Ryan holding down the far corner, air-tight support should be given the Janesville moundmen.

Footville comes strong with support and the entire town takes an active interest with their team and the White Sox are sure to have a large following of fans at the game. Sunday. The Cardinals, despite the few bad bunnings that they have received, deserve the support of the local fans for the clean article of ball that they have been playing and the Cards will play a better game with plenty of support from the grandstand.

WOMAN'S PAGE

The Evening Chit-Chat
BY RUTH CAMERON

BEING DISCOURTEOUS TO CHILDREN.

COURTESY is a beautiful thing. We all want our children to have courtesy and the concrete expression of courtesy, good manners. And yet how few parents are themselves perfectly courteous to their children? How few parents teach their children good manners by that best of all methods, example?

A well-dressed, apparently well-bred woman walked past my veranda the other day with a charming little girl. The little girl caught sight of a pony grazing in a vacant lot. "Oh, Mother! See the dear little pony!" she cried, catching hold of her mother's hand. But her mother, at the same time, had caught sight of a woman in an attractive frock and was regarding the frock with the calculating, appropriative eye with which women always study a new fashion on another woman. Consequently, being interested in more important things, it was plainly impossible for her to pay attention to what her little girl was saying. "Yes, dear," she murmured, without looking around, or for a moment taking her eye from the interesting frock.

Now, of course, that mother is going to teach her little girl that it is polite to listen and appear interested when other people are talking, but what force will there be in that lesson when it is so ill backed up by her own treatment of the child.

I have heard another mother reprove her enthusiastic little son a dozen times for interrupting when some one was speaking and yet I have often heard her interrupt him.

Again, we all know that it is a cardinal rule of good manners that one should not contradict. We do contradict them?

Little children—and big children, too, I suspect—are far more open to the influence of example than to the authority of precept. If parents realized how accurately their family life was being mirrored in the voices, the language and the manners of their children, I think they would be more careful how they carried themselves toward their children.

"The best way to teach a child to fear God," says Pelostozzi, "is to let him see and hear a good Christian."

Even so, the best way to teach a child to love courtesy is to use courtesy in your treatment of him.

an in the home to study easy methods of work and when she sees or thinks while working of a labor-saving or necessary new utensil make a note of it. Then at any time one or more may be purchased and the extra expense will hardly be noticed.

Another thing which will help in this readjustment is selecting utensils which will answer several purposes. For instance, a new toaster is necessary. An aluminum one may cost a little more at the time, but means two baking pans instead of one, as the cover is a real pan. First may be canned in it, standing flat jars on the rack and turning it upside down for the quart jars. Then with plenty of boiling water in the pan over a fire or in the oven, the fruit is turned out entirely and covered. Fruit is canned by the steam process.

The bread mixer is not only useful and necessary for bread making but is also for mixing the fruit cakes and plant puddings.

Mashing Potatoes. Who would mash potatoes the old hard way when a fruit press or potato sizer will do it in one-fourth the time and with much less effort and better results? Besides, mashing from fruits. A new and simple necessity is a milk bottle opener and stopper combined made of wood and metal, kept clear. There are some also made of aluminum. We like things which will add to the attractiveness of our table also. When I traveled abroad last year our butter was served in pretty shell-like forms, was sure it was made with a butter curler, which I knew was being sold in our own city. I had one in my possession at least a year before going there. So I managed in Paris to have the utensil brought me to see and, sure enough, it was the same. Many women were purchasing and bringing them home. The newest and best things are all here, attractive and useful, waiting your selection, but don't forget the limitation process before you begin to buy the newest tools and then use them and take care of them.

The old saying surely is a great help. "A place for everything and everything in its place."

HOUSEHOLD
HINTS

THINGS WORTH KNOWING.

To Remove Rust.—When linen becomes rusted from the iron, oxalic acid and hot water applied before washing removes the stains. After using the acid rinse the linen a few times, which leaves the linen beautiful and white.

When boiling greens add a piece of fat about the size of a walnut. This keeps the water from boiling over.

To finish armholes in a fine lingerie, sew the sleeves in by machine, then buttonhole around the edges with either a coarse thread or soft floss.

THE TABLE.

Cucumber Salad.—Cut the cucumber in halves and begin peeling it from the middle to prevent the bitterness of the tips mixing with the rest. Then slice into thin slices and mix with dressing before serving.

For the dressing make two parts of salad oil and one part of lemon juice, with salt and paprika to taste.

Chocolate. Apple Custard.—Peel a peeled, cut in quarters as many cooking apples as desired, put in a pan with a small quantity of water, sweeter and dust in cinnamon. Cook the apples over the fire till reduced to a pulp. Scrape a pound of chocolate in a spoon, wash it with a quart of sugar and a quart of milk. Beat the yolks of half a dozen eggs and the whites of two. When the chocolate begins to boil, pour in the eggs, stirring gently all the time. Pour the chocolate over the apple pulp, set the dish in a pan of boiling water, allow to stand there till firm and then cool. Serve cool.

Deviled Chicken.—One egg, half a teaspoonful of mustard, half a teaspoonful of curry powder, seasoning of salt, four tablespoonfuls of butter, some cold chicken, and two tablespoonfuls of fine bread crumbs. Mix the egg, mustard, and curry powder together, divide the chicken into small joints, brush over each piece with the egg mixture, cover with the crumbs, place in a baking tin with the butter and bake for a quarter of an hour. Dish in a rice and garnish with parsley or watercress.

Lamb en Casserole.—Wash, peel and slice one pound of potatoes, peel and cut into rings, one large onion, blanch both potatoes and onion separately. Trim one and a half pounds of loin of lamb, and cut into small pieces, fry them in a saucepan containing a little oil, then a casserole with alternate layers of potatoes, meat and onion. Season each layer with a pinch of powdered mint, salt and pepper, add two cups of stock or water, cover the casserole and place it in a hot oven for one and a half hours.

Apple Snow.—Ten apples, one cupful of sugar, three eggs, one pint of milk, two tablespoonfuls of cornstarch. Roast the apples; remove the skins and cores, then add the sugar and whites of eggs to the pulp. Beat until the mixture becomes white. Make a custard with the yolks of the eggs, the milk, and the cornstarch. Flavor to taste, and serve with the snow.

Grape Sherbet.—Boil one pound of sugar and four cups of water. Strain and add juice of one lemon and one orange. Three cupfuls of grape juice, one teaspoonful of gelatin dissolved in water; freeze.

OVER and over again, No matter which way I turn, I always find in the back of my head, some reason that I must learn to turn my back to the mill. I must grind out the golden grain. I must work at my task with a resolute will.

HURRY-UP DISHES.

This is a simple dessert which may be prepared on short notice:

White Pudding and Chocolate Sauce.—Beat together until smooth three-fourths of a cup of flour, a teaspoonful of salt and a cup of milk; when smooth, add three more cupfuls of milk, and cook twenty minutes in a double boiler. Then turn into a pudding dish and serve with chocolate sauce. Mix in a saucepan a cup of sugar, one and a half squares of chocolate, grated, and four tablespoonfuls of boiling water. Stir and cook until smooth and glossy. Then add a cup of hot milk, flavor with vanilla and serve hot.

Currant Cookies.—These are cookies which will keep a long time. Cream a cupful of butter, add a cupful and a half of sugar, then three eggs well beaten, a teaspoonful of soda dissolved in half a cup of hot water; stir in three cupfuls of flour, a half teaspoonful of nutmeg and finally a cupful of currants. Drop by spoonfuls on a buttered sheet and bake in a moderate oven until the cookies are a good brown.

Curried Rice.—Wash a cup of rice and put to cook in a quart of boiling water with half a teaspoonful of salt. Boil rapidly until the rice has absorbed all the water; set back and cook until dry. Let stand covered in a warm place for an hour. For the curry, put one and a half tablespoonfuls of butter in a saucepan and add a sliced apple and onion; stir and cook until brown, add a tablespoonful of sugar, one of flour and a teaspoonful of curry powder. Stir until well mixed, then add a quart of stock; if no stock is at hand, use water with a teaspoonful of beef extract. Season with salt. Meat and fish may be added to this sauce, and the rice may be put as a border to the meat and sauce on the platter.

In Poker Games. Maybe watches are called turnips, because they sometimes go into the pot.

Original "Biscuit." "Biscuit" was until the eighteenth century spelled "bisket," as still pronounced, the current spelling being merely a senseless adoption of the modern French spelling without its pronunciation. "Bisket" originally meant a twice-baked bread of the kind alluded to by Shakespeare in "As You Like It," where the melancholy Jacques informs the duke that his "brain is as dried as the remainder bisket after a voyage."

HEART and HOME PROBLEMS
BY MRS. THOMPSON

Dear Mrs. Thompson: We are four young men, aged twenty-one to twenty-four.

(1) How can I win the love of a lady two years my senior, who lives at a distance?

(2) Do city girls make good farm-ers' wives?

(3) Is it proper for the girl whom you are courting to a party to talk about the nice times she has had with other fellows?

(4) How can I stop my fiancée from chewing gum in my presence and flirting with other men?

(5) Are we too young to get married?

(1) Write to her, send her little presents, call on her as often as you can, if it requires some little sacrifice to call on her she will appreciate it the more. Don't be afraid to say pretty things to her and show her that you can appreciate a wife.

Every Day Talks for Every Day People
By FRANCES JOYCE KENNEDY.

The average housekeeper cannot afford to waste any food which has been left over from each meal, so from necessity as well as choice the day-maker finds herself facing the problem of left-overs. Left-overs are in themselves little things but as it is the little things of life that are eventually the most important it is well to look carefully each day to the use of the left-overs.

Here are four recipes that may be of value in helping you to eliminate waste in the running of your house. Surprise biscuits made from left-overs:

1 1/2 cups flour, 2 tablespoonfuls shortening, 2 teaspoonfuls of baking powder, 1/2 teaspoonful salt and about 1/2 cup of milk. Make a biscuit dough as soft as can be handled, roll it into a thin sheet and cut with a biscuit cutter. Boil ready one cup of well cut-up boiled beef that has been moistened with a little gravy or milk form into sandwiches by spreading the meat lightly on half of the biscuits covering with the other half, pressing together at the sides. Bake twenty minutes in a hot oven. This will make nine good sized sandwiches. If desired a brown gravy may be poured over them.

Soft buttered toast. Thoroughly toast six or eight slices of stale bread. Melt one-fourth cup of butter in half a cup of boiling water in a bowl. Quickly dip each slice of bread in the boiling water, then dip in the remainder of the liquid over all. Crust coffee. Cut the crusts from slices of bread and brown in the oven until they are very dark in color, but not burnt. Put into a saucepan pour boiling water upon them, and let stand covered where they will keep hot for fifteen minutes. Pour off the liquid into a hot coffee pot and serve with cream and sugar. A wholesome substitute for coffee and well liked by many.

Apple-sauce cake. One cup light brown sugar, 1/2 cup shortening, 1 cup applesauce, 1 teaspoonful salt, 1 teaspoonful soda, 1 1/4 cups bread flour, 1/2 cup boiling water, 1/2 cup milk, 1/2 cup lemon juice, 1/2 cup raisins. Put sugar and shortening in mixing bowl, add apple sauce then dry ingredients already mixed and sifted. Beat well, turn into deep pan, and bake in moderate oven about one hour. If liked one cup of floured raisins may be added with dry ingredients.

Dear Mrs. Thompson: (1) What should you say when introducing a boy and girl friend?

(2) What should your reply be when a gentleman asks you to dance?

(3) What should you say when he thanks you for the dance?

(4) What kind of red material could I get to trim a tan linen dress that would not fade?

(5) What color besides black and white can be used to trim a lavender dress?

(1) "Mary, I want you to meet my friend John." Or, if you are quite grown up: "Mary, permit me to introduce my friend, Mr. Smith, Mr. Smith, Miss Brown."

(2) "Thank you, I shall be pleased."

Dear Mrs. Thompson: Please give me a pie crust recipe.

Here is a prize pie crust recipe, my dear: Two cups sifted flour, nearly a cup of lard, put sifted flour in bowl with pinch of salt, add lard and mix with knives (keep everything cool). When well mixed add a little cold water, drop by drop, mixing with knife but not very much. Very little water should be used—not so much that more flour must be added to roll out.

Dear Mrs. Thompson: Do you think a little girl of ten years is too young to go with a boy of fourteen?

She is very much too young to be thinking of a beau, but there is no harm in the boy and girl being friends and playing together.

Expenditures for the support of Rock county schools, excepting those of Janesville and Beloit, reached the large total of $150,613.64 during the past school year, according to the annual report for the period compiled by Superintendent O. D. Antisdel from the statements furnished him by the district school clerks. The total receipts for the year were $203,107.19. Of the total expenditures $53,992.47 was for the maintenance of high schools, $18,953.37 for state graded schools and $77,668.07 for rural schools. THE GOLDEN CALF.

(The Story.)
The people's heart was still gross, and their religious perceptions indistinct. As a mass they had vague notions of the power that had led them, but had not attained to the idea of Omnipotence. They probably looked upon God as a tutelary deity, beyond whose jurisdiction it was possible for them to stray. They were very far short of the idea of the spirituality of God. They coveted a visible palladium. It was a crucial hour, the test was proving his people. The test was severe, but not out of proportion to their ability to endure it. Would they be true to the pledge which they had voluntarily taken when they said: "All that the Lord hath spoken we will do!" Alas! there was a sudden epidemic of fear, and there was no towering personality to withstand it. The black idolatry of Egypt slipped for them the heavenly light of Sinai. With the effable voice still ringing in their ears—"Thou shalt not make unto thee any graven image"—they still retained enough of the "charity" seems to have suggested that Aaron's compliance was in reality only feigned to gain time in hopes of Moses' return, or that he was dilly-dallying one sinful propensity against another in hopes of checkmating idolatry with cupidity. At best Aaron cuts a poor figure. He might do for an easy-going benefactor, but had no heart of stuff in him. This was the occasion on which the Israelites in their hearts turned back to the Egyptian Stephen affirmed. That glittering image carried in the van would be a substitute for the firecloud pillar; and the image of Egypt's famed Apis would be an aegis under which they might shelter themselves from the wrath of their former taskmasters. While the carnival of idolatry was at its height, the towering form of Moses appeared. Conscious of the symbolical character of his action, he held the tables aloft, then dashed them on the rocks below; thus giving for all time the strongest possible emphasis to the phrase, "the broken image." Next he attacked the costly image, taking the granite fragments of the broken tables to pulverize the idol. Having done what mortal hands could do to reform the great evil, the mediator of the old covenant hastens up the granite staircase of Sinai into Jehovah's presence, and there with a patriotic emotion that struggles to express itself in a broken and elliptical sentence, intercedes in Israel's behalf with an abandon and self-oblivion only equaled by Paul when he wished himself accursed for his brethren's sake.

The Teacher's Lantern.

Legal affirms that the circumstances under which the law was given on Mount Sinai amounted to an absolute enslavement of the human individuality by the mastery of the divine personality. The circumstances were confessedly dread and solemn, and appropriately so, but not to the extent of enslavement. That event was of the nature of a covenant—which implies the free consent of both parties. The people of their own accord said, "All that the Lord hath spoken, we will do." That the people were not metamorphosed into religious automata is evident from their shameful lapse. They were perfectly free to recede from the covenant which had been ratified in the thunders of the mount. They actually did so. Such is the fateful element of gold and silver in human nature and individuals, and determines their destiny. It is a dread gift, exalting the recipient to highest heaven, but making his fall to lowest hell possible. The grievous consequences of sin, its persistent and most ineradicable nature, have a startling illustration in this circumstance. It turned into a Hebrew proverb, "No affliction happens to Israel in which there is not some particle of the dust of the golden calf." The gold cure, after all, is not so modern as we supposed. Moses used it three thousand years ago when he made Israel swallow his own coil. He "poured it into their bowels." The utter futility as well as shameful selfishness of adopting measures of expediency when moral principles are at stake, is here exemplified. The suit should be the strongest possible deterrent. The desperately "poor out" Aaron made at it is a fair sample of what comes of using finesse in matters of morals. Right is right. Wrong is wrong. There is no shading off, no neutral tint between the two. The cry is still, "Who is on the Lord's side?"

Village Board on Authority of State Board of Health Takes Action to Prevent Disease.

(SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.)
Clinton, Sept. 18.—The village board of trustees and the local board of health on the authority of the state board of health and state railroad commission condemned and nailed up the local stockyards of the Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul and C. & N. W. railroads and forbid the use of them.

Tuesday afternoon under the personal direction of the St. Paul roadmaster the St. Paul yards were broken open and thoroughly cleaned out. The next move is up to the village. The railroad has called their bluff. The railroad officials consider that most of the complaint is a personal grievance of one member of the village board and as the yards have been in the present location nearly half a century and no disease has resulted thus the present activities are unwarranted.

UNCLE WALT The Poet Philosopher

Copyright, 1909, by George Matthew Adams

BY WALT MASON

If any man in sickness squirms, the doctor comes and talks of germs and quotes some Latin verbs, and says must go out doors and browse around here, on all four legs, and eat some grass and herbs. The doctors have such freakish cures that man by preference endures his sickness while he can; he'll nurse his bruises and his galls in solitude, while he recalls this good old fashioned plan. In olden days—alas, they've sped!—the sick man could remain in bed and groan and kick with zest; the doctor came and gave him dope, and said: "You'll soon be well, I hope, but what you need is rest!"

Ah, yes, my friends, in bygone time, the sawbones, with his skill sublime, would order rest and peace; but now he teeters to yon' couch and says you are a lazy sloth, and orders elbow grease. "Get out of that," he sternly cries, to him who's sick, "take exercise!" To out and climb a tree! Live in a tent, sleep on the grass! Cut out the supper and blue mass! Get busy as can be! I like the old time way the best; when I am sick I long for rest; I like to lie in bed, while women fan my fevered brow and ask me if I'm better now, and bring me toasted bread.

PUBLIC NOTICE.

Persons Answering Fraudulent Advertisements Asked to Notify Gazette.

The Gazette is desirous of keeping out of its columns, fraudulent advertising and asks the assistance of its patrons to that end.

There are any number of concerns in the country who make a living through a nicely worded advertisement, offering golden opportunities, and these unscrupulous people find fertile ground for work among the masses.

Many orders are received in the Gazette mail for advertising which are returned as objectionable and where there is a question as to the qualifications the advertisement is omitted. All newspapers have this experience.

But even with the utmost care there will be an occasional advertisement which will pass the scrutiny of the business department of the paper, and find its way into the columns.

The Gazette will deem it a favor if you will report to the office any trouble which may have been experienced through the answering of such an advertisement.

FORTY YEARS AGO

Janesville Daily Gazette, September 18, 1873.—Chase for Thief—Marshall Crossenburgh visited Mrs. White's establishment, just beyond the railroad bridge, in the Second ward, this noon armed with a warrant to search the yard and house for a missing suit of clothes and to arrest her son, who was suspected of the theft, should the clothes be found. The clothes were discovered in a stove, but as soon as the officer lifted the cover, White who was watching the proceedings, took to his heels and fled in a two mile chase, when he was captured and taken to Justice Prichard, where his trial is in progress. Sauer Elow—A little tornado broke on Saturday afternoon at the east boundary line of the county, the effects of which were visible in the greater portion of the town of Johnstown and the adjacent county of Walworth. Sugar Creek also suffered. Fences and fields of corn were prostrated and stacks which came in the path of the storm came down. Mr. Lomis, who is a well known fruit dealer, selling his wares upon our streets, was caught in the gale on his way home and his wagon and team overturned by the force of the wind. Though considerably bruised his injuries are not serious and he is able to be on duty on the streets again. Carman will be prepared to feed four hundred and fifty hungry ones at the coming party at the Harris works. The dinner tables have been arranged in the upper building and the generous bill of fare will supply the wants of the dancers. This hotel department will be conducted upon the European plan—order what you want and pay for what you get.

Twenty years ago today, a plot to wreck a train and kill the Emperor of Austria was discovered—Sept. 18, 1893. Find a conspirator.
